

Babe Hair Extension AfterCare:

Please Read and Initial:

_____ Do brush 2 to 3 times a day using the Babe Hair Extension brush and before showering or wetting hair. Hold the roots of your hair with one hand while brushing in a downward motion with the other. Brush gently, and be particularly careful with the bonds.

_____ I understand that I should use a professional, salon quality sulfate-free shampoo (sulfates can dry out the extensions and affect the bonds as well)

_____ I understand that it is best to use dry shampoo to absorb oils, rather than washing my hair too much. Certain hard or mineral intense water may also deteriorate bonds or the condition of the hair.

_____ Do apply any oils or sprays from the mid-shaft down, avoiding the bonds. Leave-in conditioners and hydrating oils are great for hair extensions, especially if they are feeling dry.

_____ Don't overuse heat tools. It is recommended to use a heat protectant spray before heat styling, and keeping tools at a proper temperature. Do NOT apply heat directly to bonds.

_____ Don't go to bed with wet hair (when hair is completely dry, tie into a loose braid or high ponytail at bedtime)

_____ I understand that for best results, I must blow-dry the bonded area or wefts, if I choose to let my hair air dry. (Too much moisture at the attachment can cause extensions to slip prematurely)

_____ Do avoid salty or chlorinated water. Salt and chlorine harm your hair extensions just like they harm your natural hair.

_____ Don't chemically process or alter the color/tone of your hair extensions without the advice/instruction of your stylist.

_____ I understand that the average person loses 100 strands of their natural hair a day. Over time, you will accumulate a small amount of naturally shed hair that stays in the bonds. This is normal. Regular brushing will reduce the risk of matting and tangling.

I understand that with proper care and maintenance, the extensions will last the proper amount of time after installation. I understand it is my responsibility, as the client, to take proper care of my extensions to prolong the life of them and to prevent any damage and tangling. I also understand that the life of the hair extensions vary from person to person. Failure to adhere to these instructions could result as additional charges to the service amount for retouches/installations.
